

Environmental & Toxic Tort

The Irwin Fritchie environmental and toxic tort group has successfully defended matters alleging chemical exposures, soil and groundwater contamination, and regulatory violations. Our broad experience includes the defense of claims involving arsenic, asbestos, electromagnetic radiation, formaldehyde, herbicides, lead, pesticides, silica, termiticides, and a multitude of other chemical and biological substances.

We regularly handle individual and multi-plaintiff claims in federal and state courts. Our track record includes successful dispositive briefings, denial of class certifications, exclusions of countervailing expert opinions at Daubert hearings and, when necessary, a vigorous defense at trial.

Team

Camala E. Capodice
Timothy F. Daniels
Gus A. Fritchie III
Christopher H. Irwin
James B. Irwin
Steven E. Lacoste
Laura A. Leggette
David M. Melancon
Scott Minyard
David W. O'Quinn
Connor W. Peth
Kevin Powell
Gretchen F. Richards
Alexander R. Saunders
Ali Spindler
Edward W. Trapolin
Quentin F. Urquhart Jr.
Haley Zhu-Butler