Attorneys

Irwin Fritchie lawyers are seasoned litigators, accomplished trial lawyers, savvy appellate advocates, and trusted advisors to our clients. Our young attorneys work in a friendly and professional environment, supportive of their development as skilled litigators while offering hands-on work that other firms reserve for more senior attorneys.

Our associates handle depositions and receive early opportunities to appear in court as part of the trial team or even sitting as second chair at trial. While our lawyers devote significant time and effort working for the interests of our clients, we believe in a balanced work and personal life, allowing room for a fulfilling lifestyle in pursuit of one's own personal interests and passions.

Teamwork is an integral part of our firm
